Is there much left to say? If you always thought of yourself as a duck being recognized as the beautiful swan, that you actually are, sister girl this is the book you were looking for.Maggie used to be invisibile, until she took the chance, and slipped into the lives of her best friends, who were always divalicious...she got behind their facades and learned to play their game...is this the right way? Donna Hill did a great job in revealing the true face of a DIVA! 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Divas, Inc. by Donny Hill Von BookQueen A nice and fun to read book which I can recommend if you simply want to read something funny and entertaining.

Kurzbeschreibung Diva (n.): an extremely arrogant or temperamental woman. Delicious Diva Tip #13: When in doubt, just do it anyway. Tiffany Lane and Chantal Hollis are bonafide divas-in every sense of the word. They've also been Margaret Drew's best friends since they were children. Margaret has always been the plain Jane of the threesome, living vicariously through the exploits of her friends. But when Tiffany and Chantal head to Europe on an extended vacation, leaving Margaret to tend their apartments, Margaret decides to see how the other half lives. Co-opting their apartments, their boyfriends (current and past), their fabulous lifestyles and Tiffany's very savvy pooch, Virginia, Margaret finally feels like she has found the life she has always wanted and deserved. But her double living begins to catch up with her and Margaret might soon be homeless, manless, and friendless all in one swoop. From Booklist Three women--Tiffany Lane, Chantal Hollis, and Margaret Dre--have been friends since elementary school. Tiffany and Chantal are true divas, and Margaret has always been the plain, unsophisticated one. Even on her job as the assistant editor at a university press, Margaret has been unassuming and never challenged to her full potential. Her mother and grandmother also disregard her feelings and speak at her instead of to her. When Tiffany and Chantal decide to take an extended vacation in Europe, rather than invite Margaret to join them, they ask her to house-sit and watch Tiffany's dog. In spite of her hurt feelings, Margaret decides to take advantage of the situation. She experiences her friends' lives by living in their apartments, dating their men, wearing their designer clothes, and waltzing through their wonderful lifestyles. After many mishaps, Margaret learns that being a diva is within every woman, and the real requirement for membership in the club is belief in one's own self-worth. Another Hill winner!
