Von irene kaltAs usual, an interesting and nicely presented story with Inspector Chen Cao. An underlying criticism to the actual problems in China about water and air pollution and corruption. Scary in a certain way, because these problems are not limited only to China.

KurzbeschreibungNow a BBC Radio 4 Drama Series. When Chief Inspector Chen Cao is offered a week's break at a luxurious resort near Lake Tai, he accepts immediately. Increasingly worn out by the politics of his job, the opportunity to relax and recover sounds like heaven. But the beautiful lake he remembers is much changed: covered by algae, its waters have been polluted by waste from local manufacturing plants. Even the local food is dangerous to eat. Is this the cost of progress in the new China? Then his holiday is fatally disturbed: the boss of one of the most polluting businesses has been murdered and the leader of a local ecological group is the prime suspect. Inspector Chen must tread carefully if he is to uncover the truth behind the death and find justice for both the victim and the accused. PressestimmenThought-provoking, poetic and suspenseful. The Wall Street Journal A meticulously crafted whodunit. The Japan TimesEnjoyable! Publishers WeeklyThis environmental mystery is also an example of hard-hitting investigative reporting. Despite the grim subject matter, the novel is filled with beautiful descriptions and poetry (Chen is poet as well as detective) that reinforce the beauty that is being polluted and lost. Magnificent. Booklist (starred) "Peppered with poetry and told with clarity and elegance." Kirkus s
