Ein traum wird wahrVon ErinIch schrieb diese Bewertung auf Englisch, da das Buch ist in Englischer geschriebenCertainly this is a night to remember, wow!This book has a nice building up.First we see her as a young adult sharing things with her friends or actually not sharing. She finds out her erotic dreams are different as the one from her friends. She discovers herself and what she wants erotically thanks to a writer and his books. She finds a job and in the book it is described how she meets the writer of this book in a place she had erotic fantasies about. And during this dinner these erotic fantasies come true. First she has to wait while he teases her with what is on display. But at the end of the evening she is letting her boundaries go and gives herself over to the writer. What happens next is he taking care of her, but not by himself but guiding her. Very hot how that is written down. Pity the story stops after that evening. I want to know what is going to happen next.

Kurzbeschreibung The sensual world of mysterious erotica writer, Cristophe Sabitini, fascinated Sophie Edwards once she opened his first book. It shaped her into the woman she was bold, confident and sexually adventurous. When her job as an editor at a major publishing company granted her the chance to meet her long-adored idol, Sophie will be put to the test. Could she resist the masked man with the velvet voice whose sensual words made her melt? Their steamy encounter will push her beyond her limits and make her experience her most decadent and scandalous fantasies. How far will Sophie go in her quest of self-discovery and erotic freedom? Will she reveal the man behind the mask? "I wouldn't want you to be too dutiful. It's important that you are as free in your behavior as you can be so we can reveal the natural woman in you. This is a lovely dress. But I think we both want you to get your beautiful body exposed. Get up very slowly and strip. Then stand still, with your legs apart, your back straight and your hands away from your hips. I want to take a good look at you." This is a story of over 7000 words of erotic hypnotism and explicit sex between consenting adults over 18 years. Have in mind that the story is meant as a stand alone with an open ending and will not be included in future series. The book is intended for mature audience!
