Von Douglas Benjamin : Rubber Pup Practice (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Rubber Pup Practice (English Edition):

KurzbeschreibungThis is the NEW and EXPANDED edition! Now with three chapters, and three times as much rubber pup fun as before.----Alex has never been into the fetish scene. That's caused some tension with his boyfriend, Josh, who wants nothing more than to experience an erotic transformation. As a birthday gift, Alex buys Josh a one-hour session with a TF Master who can make Josh's dreams come true. But when Alex shows up at the end of the session to pick up Josh, his boyfriend is still busy in a back room. Alex is greeted at the door by a muscular black latex dog-man, with a human body, dog's head and tail, and completely covered in a black shiny material like a giant chew-toy. There's something kind of familiar about the dog-man, but Alex's mind grows foggy and confused as soon as he enters the apartment. As he waits for Josh to emerge so they can leave, the dog-man makes small talk, and Alex doesn't even notice that he's being commanded to strip down. Soon, he's sitting there naked and unable to move. That's when his body starts to transform. In chapter two, Alex and Josh introduce a new friend to the transformation scene. Skip is nervous at first, but soon he finds himself unable to resist the new latex pups. His muscles swell, and his personality grows ever more dominant as he gains a tail and a shiny slick new skin. In chapter three, a dive bar becomes the site of one transformation after another. Every man who enters finds himself altered in some way. And that's good news for Skip, who now owes a debt to a TF master that he may be unable to repay. The only way for him to regain full control of his body: turn ten men into latex rubber pups before the night is out. This is a 15,000-word erotic gay adult short story, featuring transformation, pup play, nudity, humiliation, oral and anal sex, rubber and latex play, bukkake, hypnosis, and men forced into embarrassing situations like losing their voice and barking on all fours like a dog.
